Abbeyfield Houses Society of Durham Seniors Residence

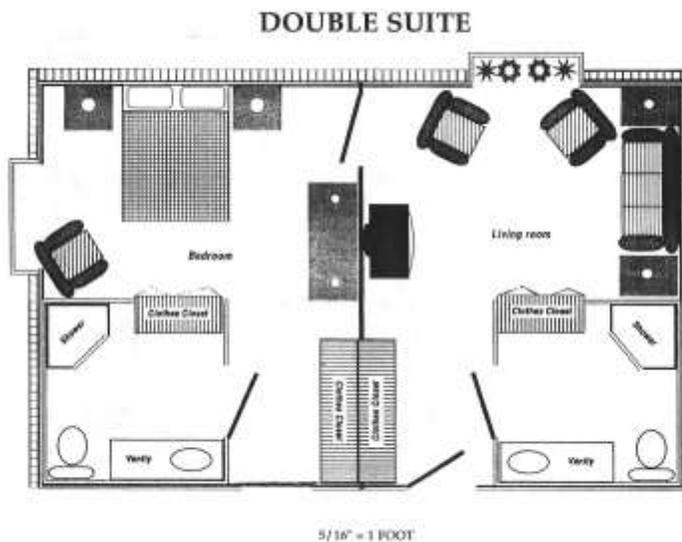

"Abbeyfield" started in London, England in 1956 and has grown into an international organization with over 660 houses worldwide including 40 in Canada.

We are a non-profit housing option for seniors. Each resident has their own private living area, and access to the other common areas within the building.

There is a staff member

Single or double rooms are available

Rent includes heat, hydro, laundry facilities, maintenance and meals each day. Lunch and dinner are prepared by staff. Breakfast is self-serve.

Residents are responsible for telephone, TV and internet. However a computer room is available at no cost and permits families to keep in touch via email and Skype.

Residents furnish their rooms to their own liking and are also responsible for the cleaning of their own rooms.

Each room has independent heat and air conditioning.

Parking is also available.

It is our hope that residents foster new friends as they share around the dinner table and in other activities.

The family room is available for large family gatherings and includes a kitchenette.

A digital access panel secures the main entrance and each of the residents' rooms is secure and private.
